General Report Comments: I went to the farm Malkopvlei outside Riebeeck West using the Pin location provided by the complainant. I saw the sheep from the road and they started getting up and walking away when they saw me. I then drove to the farmhouse. On my way there I observed a water trough under some trees that is accessible to the sheep in question.

The wife of the farm owner Mrs Annemie Bester gave me permission to drive directly to the sheep in question. Myself and Inspector van Zyl proceeded to drive to the sheep in the camp. When we arrived I walked towards the sheep and all of them got up and started walking away. No sheep with any injuries were observed. I observed lines on the sheep that indicated that they were sheared. At that time the farm manager arrived and I asked him when the sheep were sheared and he told me in September. No sheep had overgrown coats.

The farm manager proceeded to show us another water trough that is not visible from the road. Pictures of both water sources are attached. We then proceeded to leave the farm and I observed that the sheep all started walking back to the same space that they were on when we arrived.

There are no welfare concerns on this farm and no further action required.
