Comments:	Yolanda called me and asked if I can assist her with bringing the poles she bought for the enclosure . The poles was bought at the Pole Yard. I assisted her. She bought the wire mesh last week and this was the only obstacle left for them to build the enclosure. I was u der the impression that I will come and asssit them with building the enclosure today, but yolanda advised that her neighbor will assist them and that it will be done by next week, depending how quick the cement will dry from the planted poles. She will let me know if she needs assistance with the actual building of the enclosure, but for now she has it under control. I will follow up next week to verify progress
