Comments: Upon arrival, I was met and granted access by David, the manager. He advised that he did not receive the issued warning, and I saw in my email box that the email bounced back. David advised that it is likely due to them closing down and that the email account had been closed already. I gave him a print out copy of the issued warning and advised him that they will have implement the changes before any slaughtering commence, David advised that there won't be any further slaughtering as he is not sure if they are closing down for good or temporarily until the renovations are done. He is still waiting for feedback from the owner, Mr. Kotze.

I saw a few pigs in the pens and asked him about the pigs, he advised that a farmer offloaded them when he was not here but that he has called the farmer to come and collect his pigs asap today. He is just waiting for the farmer then he will be leaving as well for the day.

I advised that I will call him in a few weeks time to verify the current status of the abattoir.
