General Report Comments: Caroline the owner of the property let me on the property. I observed 10x dogs on the property. I asked Caroline about the Jack Russell that is injured and Caroline replied that she does not have a injured dog,she then called Sugar the only Jack Russel she has on the property. Sugar is 10 years old and in acceptable condition as well as the other dogs. All the dogs are sterilized. Water,food and shelter was observed. Caroline told me that Sugar was injured about a month ago but they took her to the vet and as I can see Sugar is fine. Caroline also told me that she knows who the complainant is because she is busy with a eviction notice to get the complainant of her property. No welfare issues was observed. I contacted the complainant and asked her if she knows the dogs name that is injured and she said yes it's Sugar the Jack russel female. I told her that there is nothing wrong with Sugar and she then said that Sugar was injured and the owners did nothing. I explained to the complainant that if the owners did nothing Sugar would have been dead by now. This case is more about a battle between the owner and the tenant. Nfa until further notice.
