CHECKLISTS

General Report Comments: Mr Duckitt took us to the Qurbani site on his farm. There are holding several holding pens for the animals. There is a bleeding pit that is used for cutting. Mr Duckitt confirmed that no animals are transported to the site, it is his cattle that gets slaughtered. The SPCA pre stun on this site every year. Mr Duckitt is very strict and when they do not want to comply to this, he does not allow them to slaughter by him. He also has a back up captive bolt when we are there every year. He does not allow any prodders or sticks to be used. There is a cattle press and a neck clamp that must be used and we have observed that that does happen in previous years.
