General Report Comments: I went to do a recheck to see how the pitbull female Angel is doing . Maggi let me on the property and took me to the back where Angel is being kept in a Wendy house . I saw the brown pitbull female Angel lying on a blanket with a cone around her neck . I could see that the open wound is starting to close and get dry because the wound was open when I was there a week ago. Maggi showed me the F10 ointment that they are still using and the antibiotics and pain medication that they got from the vet a week ago. I advised Maggi to take Angel back to the Village Vet so that Dr . Jen could see that the wound is healing and maybe prescribed more antibiotics and pain medication. Maggi told me that she will take Angel back to the Village Vet tomorrow . Food and water was also observed and the dog is moving around. Will recheck again after a week to see how the wound is healing.
