CHECKLISTS

General Report Comments: Upon arrival, I entered the property as there is no gate. As I entered the property I heard a dog barking from inside the house. I went to the front door to know, but no one seemed home. The dog was barking at me the entire time. I went to the side of the house to hear if the dog will bark there as well, meaning the dog is free roaming inside the house, the dog did come and bark at me at the right side, I then proceeded to the left side of the property and the dog followed barking, and I heard no rattling of a chain, indicating the dog is indeed free roaming inside the house.

I could not see the dog through the windows as there were curtains hanging. 1x large window was open providing the dog with sufficient ventilation.

I will follow up again next week, hoping to find the owners home to conduct a physical inspection on the dog and enquire regarding the housing conditions.
