General Report Comments: Upon arrival at the Sunninghill vet I met with Dr Jacky Sharp. She gave me permission to enter the premises and be in the consult room whilst busy checking the rabbit in the presence of its owner. The rabbit was laying on the consult table appearing to be disoriented and paralyzed. The vet and the owner demonstrated that it was eating, they gave it a carrot and it ate it. Michelle explained that she was only fostering on behalf of a Critters Rabbit rescue center. According to the vet and a specialist in treating Rabbits with this kind of condition said that it was doing better and if the need arise to euthanase it she will do it. She said she would write me a report.
