General Report Comments: I arrived at the property, and the gate was open. I knocked at the gate and they could only hear me when I approached the door step. A young lady came to the door and identified herself as Nqobile. She called her mother, Beatrice Zulu who explained to me that their dog named 'Lizzy' went out to the street and the dog got attacked by other dogs badly. The dog was found with what appeared to be puncture wounds. I persuaded them to sign over the dog to the SPCA. Mrs Zulu said she will phone her husband and when she did, her husband refused to give consent to be surrendered. I issued them with a written warning to take the dog to the vet within 24 hours and forward us a Veterinary Report. She signed and accepted the written warning. To follow up in 24 hours
