General Report Comments: I went to the property, and it was a rental compound. I found one of the tenants driving out of the yard and asked if they had dogs he pointed me to where the dog was in someone else's house also renting on the property. I knocked on the door and a lady who identified herself as Charmand Metsheni opened for me. I explained the reason why I was visiting her house. She revealed to me that she owns a Chihuahua, dark brown, male neutered dog named "Spike". She said that the dog in question does not belong on the property. She was also at the gate driving in when the incident reported by the complainant happened. It was not his dog that went out of the yard. Someone came to fetch the dog (it was a German Shepherd) straying on the road a short while later. To contact the complainant to get the exact address.
