General Report Comments: Upon arrival at the site found 3x dog handlers with each hold their dogs patrolling.
The site did not have any build up cages for the dogs to be kept in there for resting. There was evidence that the dogs were chained and this was confirmed by the guards that they do when they go to toilets or during lunch. There were green igloo kennels.
The choked chain on the Rottweiler x appeared to be tight around the dog's neck. The guards appeared to be happy with the dogs and doing a good job at caring for them.
warnings were issued to have the two German shepherds taken to a vet and that cages be erected to prevent the dogs being tied up as well the choke chain enlarged for the Rottweiler x
