Comments: The complainant was struggling to give me directions but we eventually met each other next to where the dogs were found sitting. The dogs were found next to the the Marlboro Drive, which is a very busy motorway. It was an adult, black and tan bitch and a tan puppy. The bitch was very protective and attacked anyone who tried approaching. The dogs started running in aimlessly but I didn't want to them push too hard for them to end up being knocked by a car. They run across both traffic directions and went into the Jukskei River where we lost in the direction towards Alexandra . We searched for them along the river banks with no trace. The dogs, a bitch and a puppy got lost in the river
