Comments: To date, I haven't heard from Mr. Allen and while I was in the area I paid him a visit. He said to me the cat was recovering very well it was just a lip that was being caught by the lower canines. He mentioned that after serious discussions all parties involved in this matter everybody was alarmed after he told them that he brought the matter to the Sandton SPCA. He said everything related to the animals became peaceful after my visit. He said that the vet told him that the cat will get used to it as it was not causing any injuries and for it get better they had to implant new teeth and that only be don't by specialists only based in Cape Town. He said that he is still considering the surgery even though the cat was not bothered by this condition to get the cat to her full health. No perpetrators could be identified. Matter finalized
