Comments:	The owners of this house, Simphiwe Mvula said they don't own any chickens or animals on the property. They just have stray rabbits which come into the property that they were never bothered by but I insisted to impound them as strays. 2 of the 3 rabbits were captured and remove them off the property before they become multiplied. I advised them to phone us again should there be more rabbits coming in the yard. I was given a chance to view around the yard to check their other entry points in the back yard. No chickens were found at this house. They claim that the chickens were kept next door at no. 125 Nottingham Road, Kensington.
