CHECKLISTS

General Report Comments: At the address the owner said they don't have any dogs on the property and she hates dogs. She didn't want me to enter the house even when I insisted to be escorted by a street security guard. She even said I can go ahead and ask them to confirm that they don't own any dogs. I contacted the complainant to confirm the address but they said the guy only gave them the address but they never verified it. I then told them that I'll be stopping at their house to check on them and the dogs. I looked for the street guard in their guard house where I found Mr Lucky Nkambule who did confirm that there are no dogs at this house. I asked him about the incident t he complainant reported to us but he said he never heard about it. He said that he may have encountered a guy who he knows to own a Pitbull and in the area and can identify him if he can see him on a video footage. I went to the complainant's house and checked on the amount of casualties caused by the culprit where their one dog sustained a shoulder injury and was seen by the vet. Their dog appeared to be alert as the injury was getting better. The complainant's spouse was also bruised on the hands from trying to break up the attack. They said the incident was captured on a video footage of their security cameras. I requested them for them to send it to us so it can help identify and advised them to pursue a case at the local SAPS. She agreed to do so when she has power later.
