General Report Comments: The supposed owner lived in a rental compound when she left the dog. The complainant's wife gave me access into the property. The dog was found hiding under the balcony deck where there were office chairs and desks stored. I was told that the owner had evicted because they haven't been paying rent and they left the dog. The dog appeared to be mangy with a dull coat and loss of hair on most parts of the skin. The dog was surrendered as an abandoned dog pending owner's claim to account for their wrongdoing. The dog will remain in out custody for 7 days.
