General Report Comments: At the victim's property who is also the complainant, I went to see extent of damage incurred to the cat. The cat was found to be recovering very well as she had been taken to be seen by the Fourways Vet. The jaws appeared to be back in place and she was eating or chewing normally. I wanted to get the complainant's account on the incident that led to the cat sustaining injuries. He said he only knew of people who were commenting negatively about other people's pets but could not be to identify exactly who might be the suspect of of such an incident. He said he proposed a motion to the Body Corporate to have a meeting with them about the matter and that I must just send him an email so he can copy me on all the correspondence. I told him I will be sending him the email to make arrangements. To send him an email soon
