General Report Comments: The gate was open when I arrived at the property. Mr Tshabalala assured me that all my requests were done as instructed. They bought flea treatment powder called Karbadust to deflea the whole yard for the animals. The dog blanket was removed from the kennel and were still getting a new one for the dogs. The chicken coop was cleaned and deflead but they said the rainwater may have washed off the powder but they sprinkle after each cleaning. Roofing was in place for the sheep in their enclosure but appeared to be under developed. They said they were still getting supplies to finish it off. The Guinea fowl was still present during my inspection. I phoned the owner Mr. David Trope who said that the Guinea fowl belonged to his foreman Jabu Khumalo who was unreachable at that time. To phone him at the office soon. Routine inspection to be conducted at this property.
