General Report Comments: The condition had improved upon my arrival at the property. The sheep enclosure was constructed as advised in the Warning but was not fully protecting the sheep from the western side . I told them to put a sheet of shade cloth over to at least shield the kraal from rain. The chicken coop was kept clean and applied with Karbadust™ to ridden the parasites. I could see powered sprinkles on the floor. Adequate water was available. The Guinea fowl was still on the property with no permit issued or even having applied for it. I contacted the owner, Jabu Khumalo was not answering his phone I therefore left him a voice message to call back. I told them that I'll be impounding the Guinea fowl pending discussions with the owner and it will be kept in the pound for 4 days as the fowl had been threatened to be slaughtered by the guys at the property. To wait for owner's response within 4 days.
