General Report Comments: I made to our agreed appointment with the owner of the property. The owner invited me politely into the property to view the animals' living condition. Their Staffie ran towards me in a friendly and she appeared to be of a playful nature. Mr Naidoo lives with his parents in the back cottage who also own a dog. The dogs appeared to get along in acceptable physical condition. There was a 20-year-old, African Grey Parrot that they keep in a cage which was kept clean and in suitable condition. I asked the owners about the claims and they denied their dog being involved in such an incident and insisted on checking cameras that can proof their point. I told them I don't have the specific time of the incident and will have to ask the complainant or victim. No violation of the Animals Protection Act was found during my inspection. To advise the complainant accordingly
