General Report Comments: The property lies in a gated cul-de-sac and we had to access it through the intercom but the owner was not answering the intercom. The helper opened the gate for us to enter saying that the owner gave her consent. There were 4 dogs, 2 cats and 7 chickens on the property. All of which were in acceptable physical condition. The 2 older dogs were provided with an extra room as their shelter while the other 2 are kept in a covered patio. The cats were being kept indoors. There were 7 chickens on the property which they said they are their egg-bearers and they are not letting them hatch. The owners are bee-keepers owning 2 bee boxes. Mrs. Mapoane said that the dogs accidentally ran out of the garage when the owner was driving without realizing that they were in the garage. I advised her that they must be kept in the yard and that the small door to access the garage is closed before driving out. She said she will inform the owner about it. No violation of the Animals Protection Act was found.
