General Report Comments: The complainant was not so clear in giving the directions so I therefore contacted them to direct me. They came to meet and pointed me where chickens were being sold I then proceeded there. The hawking site was located on an informal market across a food store called KwaNolu's Delicious Food on Quartz Street between Goldreich & Caroline Streets, Hillbrow. The chickens were sold by the owner's fellow hawker named Thomas Sibanda shopkeeping, who gave me the owner's contact because she had to go away to attend a family relative's childbirth but coming back later according to him. I found approximately 23 birds in a disrepair cage having holes on the ground, protruding wires and insufficient to no water in the 2 lower cage layer. The chickens were provided with a sail sheet for covering in a case of harsh weather. A narrow 110 mm halved PVC pipes were provided as feeding troughs and soft drink bottles I phoned the owner who said she was on her way back but I told her that I'll leave her a written Warning note for her to rectify the issues. I told her that I'll be coming back to check soon. To follow up in future
