General Report Comments: The owner was not there, but I drove in the same time the young adults (son and daughter) from the unit were returning home, who then took me to their unit (#148). They own an almost 2-year-old, tan, male Pomeranian named "Goldie" that was found in their apartment running between the balcony and the living room and had full access into the house. There were water and food readily available for "Goldie" both in the living room and on the balcony. Dog bedding was in the living room, and a blanket was laid on the balcony.

They did admit to the dog barking a lot, but not leaving the dog to sleep outside on the balcony. The dog appeared to be in acceptable physical condition. I also educated the owners on a few tips to accustom the dog to a good routine in a way to minimize what would be considered as excessive or nuisance barking by their dog. There were no offenses in respect of animals in terms Animals Protection Act 71 of 1962. The complainant was advised that any public nuisance or disturbance caused by the dog must be directed to the Body Corporate to address such issues to retain public harmony. No animal welfare issues found.
