General Report Comments: To date, I haven't received any communication from Mrs Berzen regarding treating the sick animals. When inspecting the animals at the Haven, I discovered that the animals in question did not appear to be on treatment. The sheep was still had swollen jaws, and 1 of the rabbits was still at the vet while the other one reportedly was on eyedrops. Because the sheep's condition appeared to have deteriorated, I phoned the owner, Mrs Berzen to find out her plans with the sheep, but she claimed to have had a vet coming to examine the sheep. She stated that the sheep was given antibiotics and was supposed to return for a follow-up check on the sheep. I told her that I will be impounding the sheep for failure to provide veterinary treatment, and this will have serious legal implications for having shifted her responsibilities to me. I issued her with a warning notice to inform her about the impoundment.
