General Report Comments: I found the birds removed from the reception and placed outside in the sun. Their cages were clean except the perches were still positioned incorrectly – over the water container. The other birds were in fairly acceptable physical and living condition. So were the Leopard tortoises but still have outstanding permits. I spoke to Dr Baker who was rather condescending and impatient in his response to my visit when I was asking him about being completely compliant with my warning. In his defence, he stated that he was not having an unplanned meeting me as I needed to set up an appointment. I have already received an email about the vervet monkey's permit and verified the microchip (look out for attached and monkey's details) but he was not willing to afford me the time to listen to what I had to say. He said I should write him an email to address the issues. I will forward him an email with addressing the rest of the issues. I will follow-up with the email to the owner Dr Baker escalate it to the relevant authorities - Gauteng NatureCon if I dont get response from Dr Baker.
