General Report Comments: I met the owner's mother at the gate, who took me inside the house to meet the dogs. They own 4 adult dogs and 7 newborn puppies kept in an enclosed section away from the other dogs. The newly adopted cross-pitbull bitch gave birth to the puppies just after being provided with a home a few weeks earlier, according to the owner, Mr Michael O'Falherty. They stay in a rental house, residing with multiple tenants but having their own space with a yard. All the dogs are kept indoors with food and potable water readily provided to them. The dogs appeared to be in optimum weight, including the nursing bitch. I asked them about their plans for the puppies, but they said they are not planning to keep them. I also offered to get the bitch spayed when the time is right and told to contact me in the event that they are not successful in finding new homes for the puppies. I will be checking with the owner in 5 weeks when the puppies are old
