General Report Comments: The Sloth was find together with an Emperor Tamarin . They appeared to be in a good condition.Shelter was provided for both animals. The box which the complainant lodged a complaint about was seen .The box did not have a lid to close it which is appropriate, it is provided as an option for the animalm to choose if it wants to sleep or hide in it. There are some bed which are provided for the animals to sleep. The ox appeared to be an adequate size as it only used for the animal to sleep. Also it helps the animal to hide if it feels like hiding as this is natural for the wild animals because sometimes they do not feel like seeing people. Adequate perches and enrichment were provided for the animals. The animals appeared to be compatible to each other as they were no signs of fighting or injuries obseved. No welfare concerns even though as an organisation we are oppose to the animals kept in cages as they are supposed to be in the wild.
