Veterinary problems / health concerns		✓

Note: Any concerns noted in this table must be explained in detail in the Inspector's report.

Report/Findings:

The monkey was observed free roaming and appeared to be in good condition. It was fed and watered probably upon inspection. No sign of aggression noticed on the monkey. The cage is kept in the house in case the monkey has to be confined. It was also found to be adequate. It was not sterilized but it is always kept in the yard. Their principal vet is Dr James Davies of Doornfontein Animal Clinic. He addressed the incidents whereby the monkey allegedly attacked people and the owner denied such allegations.

Action taken: (i.e. warning, education, seize, etc)
