General Report Comments: Upon arrival i met a receptionist who told me to wait for the owner. Within 10 minutes Rolf arrived and took me through to where the snakes are kept.

At the reception there was an enclosure observed that had 2 iguanas. Both iguanas appeared to be in a good condition and clinically alert. Natural enrichments are provided and water is provided. There is adequate space provided and the glass cage is completely clean.

We the n went to where the snakes. There are plastic containers and there are hit plates provided at the back of the wall. These hit plates are thermostatic controlled and the temperature is displayed. The snakes are kept in a warm containers that has sufficient ventilation and the snakes appeared to be in a good condition. No injures observed and therr is hiding spaces in these containers for the snake. The trained snake handler is always around and the containers are cleaned daily. They use F10 to ensure the containers are disinfected and these snakes are fed insects to practice hanting. Adult snakes are fed frozen rats.

Checklist is attached.
