General Report Comments: Was met with and grant access by a lady called Franics who claims she is placed there by the organisation as the daily care taker of the animals. They also have a few volunteers on site however the cleaner is apparenly still due to come in and they have not started to clean or feed. There is a total of 24 enclsoures with some up to 5 dog per enclsoure. There is a lot of concerns for all the enclosers. The water buckets provided are very high making it diffucult for some of the dogs to reach the drinking water when the levels are shallow some bowls were also very dirty and some were completly tipped over so some dogs had no access to water. All enclsoures are also soil only making disinfected impossible. There were also feaces build up in some of the enclosures in bundles there is also feaces in the walk way in front of the enclsoures indicating that when they clean they do not dispose of all the feaces all the way they just throw the feaces in front of the kennels on one bundle. Overgrowding is an issue as said some enclsoures had up to five dogs per enclosure where the enclosures are only approx 3m x 3m big. There is also only wire mesh in between the enclsoures and a lot of fence fighting between the animals are visbale. There is already reported incidents of dogs breaking out then massive fights errupts and they get badly injured. There is also no record keeping of any of the animals on the property. When we ask qeustions about admission dates and medical history we cannot be answered with certainty only that Karen (the owner) has all these details however she is not always present on site. About 14 dogs in the outside enclosores have skin conditions. 11 were also very underweight. There is a pitbull with the name of Mufasa who has sever skin condition and extremly underweight. The two dogs in kennel 9 also appears to have lost weight since my last inspection on 28/07/2026. Kennel 5 one dog with skin condition and kennel 10 three dogs with skin condition however they were also there on the prevouis inspection, proof of treatment was received and their condition has improved. Kennel10 had feaces inside the kennel (sleeping area) indicating the stress and abnormal envioroment these dogs are in. One dog in kennel12 also underweight. Kennel15 with four dogs had no water. Four dogs in Kennel18 also underweight. Pitbull named Blue in Kennel19 severe skin condition and underweight. Kennel20 had three dogs in with one dog named Reece underweight. Kennel21 had four dogs in with two skin conditions and underweight. Kennel22 had four dogs in all with severe skin conditions and underweight. kennel23 had three dogs in also skin condition and underweight with one black dog with an abcesses underneight its left ear. Kennel24 had four dogs with one with skin conditon. In the cottage was a mother dog with 8 puppies. Inside the house where approx another nine dogs. On the stoep where three puppies in a barred area with no water, food, blanket. In the house two dogs called Mason and Lilly where also crrated off from the other dogs, the white color also severe skin condition and bearly responsive, the older pekgnise where matted and blind does not appear to be moving around a lot also had no access to water. There were another tan cross breed underweight no mussle mass and also bearly able to get up and walk also have ear infection in both his ears. Owen is another cross breed in the top room severly underweight and skin condition was appaertly at the vet the day before. Fraya another tan female cross breed were enclosed in the bathroom with blood stools visvabe indicating parvo however she appeared active and alert. Both these dogs at the top had no sleeping areas or access to drinking water. Warning was send via email at 13:00 addressing all these concerns highlighting the importance of immedaite medical attention to some of these animals
