General Report Comments: The front yard of the property does not have fencing; therefore, the front door is the entrance into the house and property. The security gate of the front door is reinforced with mesh; therefore, small dogs cannot escape the house. On the side of the house a steel gate reinforced with mesh is present, as well as, further down the driveway before reaching the back yard. The walls surrounding the back yard are brick walls of 2.5m height.

The house is clean and neat as well as the back yard. The dogs sleep inside. Food and water is available in the kitchen. It was discussed with the owner that Springs SPCA requires female dogs to be sterilised before approving an adoption. The owners said they would not mind doing a sterilisation package with the adoption fee as well as doing a meet and greet with both dogs.
