General Report Comments: Since the previous prehome inspection the Great Dane had been humanely PTS due to cancer and one of the cats had gone missing. The Staffie x dog that was adopted as a puppy is well looked after and thriving.

The entire property is enclosed with brick walls of 1.8m height. The steel front gate has small gaps; therefore, small animals cannot escape the yard through the gate. The front and back yards are separated with palisade fencing and a steel gate. The yard is large and clean. A large wooden kennel is outside in the back yard; however, the dogs sleep inside at night. Food and water is found inside the house and flat.
