General Report Comments: Upon arrival only the wife and older sons were home. The dogs are kept in the back yard as per usual. In the back yard two wooden kennels are present, as well as food and water. The yard is clean neat and tidy. The dogs are in satisfactory body condition. Both dogs are friendly in demeanor. The sons explained that the dogs get into fights every now and then, especially during feeding time or when they get too excited. To try prevent this, they separate the two dogs during feeding time, or secure them for a bit until they calm down.

I suggested sterilisation of the dogs as hormones may play a role in the aggression as well as spoke about sibling rivalry that is a common occurrence in dogs.
