General Report Comments: At house No 15A the back yard had been cleaned and walls had been installed to make the space for the dogs bigger. The male Pitbull was free roaming in the new larger space, but still separated from the female Pitbull as she was still on heat. Clean buckets of water was present. The owners informed me that they still need to get proper dog food for the dogs and install a proper shelter in the new larger space. We also discussed that the female Pitbull would need to still be seen by a veterinarian for her skin condition.
