General Report Comments: Access was granted at 15:00, and Xoliswa escorted us to inspect the dog on the property. She informed us that they had recently purchased the dog but had been concerned about his health from the beginning.

Upon examination of Danger, it was observed that he was suffering from mange, penile cancer, and a severe flea infestation. Given the extent of his condition and the severe suffering he was enduring, I recommended that Xoliswa sign the dog over to the SPCA for humane intervention. Xoliswa agreed, understanding the necessity of the decision.

Danger was humanely euthanized at the SPCA to prevent further suffering.
