Comments:	Hugh and I, Elani drove past the property and saw guys still busy erecting the fence for the new horse enclosures. The horses are still in their old camps for now. I then called Tony when I got back to office. He informed me that they are still busy with the fencing and want to level the ground where the shelter will be built. The tractor broke and is being fixed at the moment. Tony agreed that we can do monthly checks to gollow up on the progress .
