General Report Comments: We arrived at the property and found nobody home. As we wanted to place a contact warning on the gate the owner and her daughter arrived home.

Hugh and I, Elani explained why we were there but before we could finish the mother started babbling about people that keeps complaining about their guesthouse and the chickens etc. She mentioned that Fredericks was there last Friday and gave them a warning. They decided to get rid of most of the chickens instead of getting a permit. We saw that they had a chicken crate in the back of their bakkie. They explained that they took about 7 of their chickens to a farm called La Vita. They also found a home for the remaining three chickens that will be going to their new home over the weekend.

I asked Charissa whether I can call her on Monday to ask whether the chickens are gone and she agreed. Because of this I did not issue a warning as they are giving the chickens away to other owners.

To follow up with Charissa on Monday
