General Report Comments: I, Elani arrived at Eduannes property and introduced myself. I mentioned to him that I was there about the Cape Cobra that was fried in the electrical wire. He confirmed that the snake died the following day.

I asked to see his pythons that he uses for education purposes at schools. They were kept together in a large cage above his Tv. They had a fake grass mat, heating pad under that and an infra red light.

He then put them in his travel crate for the show at the school. He also had a cape cobra kept in his garage. He is allowed to keep them and release them within a 10km radius from where they were found within 48 hours.

He had a Cape Nature permit for his boas and one for transport, rehabilitate and release. He also has a valid PAPA license. See attached photos of this.

I did not find any welfare concerns at the time of my visit.

Case can be closed.
