General Report Comments: Elani and I,Hugh arrived at the business and we were greeted by Magda Theron .We introduced ourselves and explained to her that we were there to do and inspection.She then said we are welcome to do an inspection and allowed us access.

We then asked her whether she is the owner and she mentioned that Denise Coetzee is the owner.We then started doing the walk through and she said that the staff member is currently busy cleaning the tanks.We then went inside the area where the fish were kept and from a distance it seemed pretty impressive.We then spoke to the staffmember and asked him how he cleans the fish tanks and he mentioned that he removes the fish and then moves them back when done.

The staff member then left and Magda Theron then came closer in order to answer all our questions.Elani then asked her what they do in order to euthanize the fish if one were to be sick.She then mentioned that they take the fish out of the tank and let them suffocate then bury them.Elani then educated them on using Clove oil in order for the fish to humanely euthanize them.She then agreed and mentioned that they are gona get some but rarely have sick fish.

We noticed that the fishes were in good condition .The filters and pumps were all working and there were no algae seen.They also mentioned that they have a generator incase the power goes off .

Warning 042 was issued to.

1.Upon discussion I noticed the staff members did not know how to humanely destroy fish and instead took them out and let them suffocate to death in future ensure to destroy fish humanely by adding 0.4ml of clove oil to 1 lite of water.

We were overall pleased.
