To Whom It May Concern

Pet-i-Ket is a Dog daycare, kennel and training facility - based in Melkbosstrand (Cape Town) - which focuses primarily on dog etiquette. In general, our services aim to improve the lifestyle and maintain the psychological health of dogs and humans alike.

Our Daycare, Kennel and Training Facilities are nothing “new” to the dogs of Lisa-Jane and Turlo Rensburg.

Kalah (a spayed female Boerboel cross) and Marcus (still a puppy male Pitbull cross) have been visiting our Facility since puppyhood are regular ‘students’.

Our facility is unique in the sense that we manage a “communal” centre, whereby all the dogs sleep and play together. Having said that, one of the biggest requirements (apart from vaccinations, de-worming and flea applications) in order for any dog to stay with us, is for them to have very good social skills. Both Kalah and Marcus meet with all our requirements.

Having provided their dogs with routine stimulation and good house etiquette, Mr and Mrs Rensburg have ensured that their dogs do not bark excessively, escape their premises or behave destructively. I can attest to their behaviour at school, they are calm, well-mannered and well behaved dogs.

Kalah and Marcus are really fortunate to have owners like Mr and Mrs Rensburg, not only because they are financially taken care of, but most importantly, their needs as dogs (both physical and mental) are fulfilled and they are genuinely loved.

I hereby attest to Kalah and Marcus regular attendance at our Facility and I greatly commend Mr and Mrs Rensburg for being responsible pet owners.

Yours in good behaviour,

Kerry McDonald
