Comments: At 10h00, Rudy and myself we met with the owner of the dog. He wanted spca to keep the dog while he is still busy trying to get the security gate, he also wanted us to tell him how much it will cost him to keep the dog at the spca.

As I was at the property many and times the owner was given enough time to rectify the concerns , but he failed. He claimed that his child is sick because of the dog that was taken away, he mentioned that the dog was not suffering while he was tied up . He does not see anything wrong about the dog being tied up on a meter chain.

We gave him two options as follows

1. The first option was to surrender the dog over to spca, then we will consider of not opening the case.
2. The second option was , if he doesn't not want to surrender the dog, then we will proceed about pressing charges against him.

He wanted to see the dog, but we have refused that , then he left with out giving us an answer.he left us we no choice but to press charges.
