General Report Comments: I first met with Ernaline Goeieman, who lives under the bridge on De Waal Road. I inspected one male kitten, black with some strands of white (not white watches, actual strands) and one pitbull puppy, black white on chest and paws, Jason. Upon my arrival, Jason was locked inside a crate. I made Ernaline let him out immediately. There was water in the crate. I told her not to lock him in the crate, which she does because she's scared he runs away or someone steals him. She said she had a leash, and I said she should just let him sleep with her out of the crate, and if she's worried, just keep his leash on. I explained that she must never tether him, though. I issued warning 18317 to Ernaline, instructing her to never confine Jason into the crate. She then directed me to the man with 2 puppies. You have to walk up onto the bridge, and he lives right next to Block & Chisel. However, you have to jump into the area and then climb out. The man got up, and 2 puppies (putbull crosses) ran out of his shack and up to me. They are in good condition. The man is Robin Ferreira. He is waiting for vaccinations from the animal clinic next to Diep River SAPS. Roxy is the female brindle puppy with white on her chest, Gucci is the male tan puppy. All animals inspected here are unsterilised.
