Subject: Re: Neglect

Good morning
I trust you are well.

We visited Klein Roosboom wine farm again and found two cases of chaining .

Jessie - This young new female is kept on a static chain even though the yard is fully enclosed due to her apparently pulling the washing down.

Bruno - This Brindle male is kept on a short static chain even though his owners are well aware of the law regarding chaining and have received warnings from you before. Please could you also consider requesting for the owners to swap Bruno and his fluffy brother around as his brother is covered in thick fur yet has zero access to shade.

Sincerely
Jessica Robertson
