Comments _____
The crush they make use of is not 100% correct. It closes into an A shape and should actually close into a V shape for better restraining of the animal. They tied a rope around the horns to lead the animal into the race and then into the crush. As soon as the animal enters into the crush, then the animal is pre stunned. It is a quick process. This is a new site and the owners were very compliant. A total of 10 cattle were pre stunned. The ...
