Comments by Inspector:

I responded to a complaint received from a concerned member of public. The complainant alleges that the animals had been standing there in overcrowded enclosures and no shade since Tuesday.

Upon arrival I was granted access to the facility by Hannes. I explained the reason for my inspection and he allowed me to inspect. Most of the animals had already been moved and they were moving the last of the animals today. The kraals keeping animals were made larger and overcrowding wasn't a concern. They were also in the process of erecting one large camp where all the sheep will be kept in until they leave. We can also not do much regarding the shelter as according to the SANS codes, shelter is not required for sheep, goats and cattle unless the sale takes place in inclement weather conditions.

I did address some concerns with regards to transportation. The main concern was lack of ventilation and lack of non slip flooring. I issued two warnings to people whose vehicles were not up to standard. I also made them rectify the concerns if it was possible. Other people I stopped completely from loading ...
