Subject: Re: Complaint 2nd one Tableview 7 vd Graaf Tableview

Sir

I believe the inspector called by the above address.

We received a call from him Mr Johan Le Roux, explaining Spca now requires the micro chip of the imported female bulldog killed on his property. Telling us it will be costing him R30,000 to get that. All does not make sense, here is the owner of the two dogs that were on his property Scarlet imported from Poland, and Lovey from Bloemfontein, that he had mutalated at the vet, having roll removed off the nose, as he did not like the look. He should be held accountable as to why and which vet practices this to any pet.

Kindly contact the owner of these two dogs, she is Mrs Linda Steyn, Rouxville, +27794677991.

This matter had also been brought to the Bulldog Association attention now too. They have very bad remarks on this breeder. And are in process, of deregistering his kennels.

Trust you have followed up since your last correspondence.

Kind regards
