General Report Comments: Upon follow-up I was shown the dog in question which is a mature dog with old burn wounds that had healed up however the skin wont grow back anytime soon. The dig also is old as mentioned as well which age is playing a major factor on it's appearance however the dog is still alert and in fair condition as well. There was no skin condition seen on he dog and owner was also advised that should the dogs health starts to be a concern they need to call us to pick the dig up for humane destruction. The dig has shelter against the elements but when I was taking a picture he was under a car and abit nervous of me as well but water and shelter was seen for the dogs
