Comments: Dear Denise

We acknowledge receipt of your email and continued concern for the animals on this property .

The SPCA conducted inspections on 9 and 12 September and on both occasions the dogs appeared to be in good condition with access to water and shelter. The images that you sent of the black dog are not conclusive for us to see if the dog is underweight, ill or injured. The hair loss on the flank appears to be shedding.

Unfortunately, the SPCA is not mandated take action against owners that do not sterilize their animals , that would be City of Cape Town's Law Enforcement. However, if welfare concerns arise because the owners are breeding with them or the puppies are ill or injured, then we can definitely step it.

What we need from you:

Updated images (of the full body) of the dog to show what your concerns are

To refer sterilization matter to Law Enforcement on 021 480 7700

To inform us if there are welfare concerns on the property such as no water , lack of shelter, dirty living environment, the animals are either ill or injured.

We hope this email clarifies it for you and please let us know if there is anything else we can do to assist.

Hi Rudolph

Trying to get some sort of action out of SPCA has been nothing but a nightmare for me . I am at the end of my rope - we donate monthly to your business as well as donate foods etc etc. I have spoken to Jaco about this before.

I cannot send you a better photo than what I sent you. I have two rescue dogs at home that are the same breed and they have never shedded like that.

I have reported JRE to law enforcement but they just sent me back to the SPCA and I am now tired of trying to save dogs that are 100% treated badly.

You last went in September, please can you send somebody out to check this urgently.

Puppies that are not taken care of correctly should be within your jurisdiction.

I am trying to help these poor animals.

Have a great rest of day :-)

Kind Regards
Denise
