Comments and action taken by Inspector:

The red brown female crossbreed dog was confined to a large enough crate with blankets and water secured to the crate. This dog had pushed its blankets (there were 2 blankets put inside the crate) to the corner of the crate, and I asked them to rectify the blanket when they had the chance as the dog did not appear aggressive. I checked the dog's vaccination records and the dog's name is Bella and her vaccinations are up to date (done at Crystal Park veterinary Hospital in Benoni). They told me that Bella's owner was already notified of her arrival, which they explained is actually done automatically. If the crate remains at the Petlounge for more than 45 minutes, they follow up with a call.
