Comments and action taken by Inspector:

Upon my arrival, the pet travel agent was taking an animal back to their holding facility as the flight had been delayed due to the crate apparently not fitting. He told me it was SAA and not Menzies but they are the same building. SAA will now have to start being inspected too. I took his contact details to get in touch with him as he said he will share concerns he has with the warehouses. He also told me that the owners of the dog were already notified and would meet him at the holding facility. I will upload the photos of the shipment to the case and then just verify if I should still do a live animal checklist under Menzies or open a new one under SAA because I think they are the same company. Case will be updated.
